WINDUP OF CONGRESS.

Important Legislation to Be Disposed of During the Present Week.

Senate to Wrestle With the Army and Other Appropriation Bills-Conference Reports Also to Be Considered.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The army appropriation bill will receive the attention of the senate during the early part of the week, and when it is disposed of another appropriation biil will be taken up. It is probable that the army bill will be debated at length, especially upon the Philippine amendment and the amendment relating to Cuba, if the latter is introduced as is proposed. These amendments, or either of them, quite certainly will be made the basis of a number of speeches, as they will serve to open up the entire question of the relations of the United States to the islands. It is hoped that the sundry civil bill will be reported by the time the army bill is disposed of so that it may be taken up next. If it is not in shape to be considered by that time the river and harbor bill probably will receive attention. The general deficiency is likely to be the last of the approprition bills aeted on.

It is not believed that much general legislation will be accomplished during the week, but a great many private bilis will be passed. The probabilities are all against getting up the Nicaragua canal biii.

Deck Cleared In the House.

Washington, Feb. 25.-The last week in the house will be mainly occupied with conference reports on the appropriation bills, and the other numerous measures now being fought over by the managers of the two houses. The last of the general appropriation bills went to the senate on Thursday, and the house has its decks pretty well cleared for the final contests with the senate. The last six days of the session are suspension days, and it is always possible to bring the house to a vote on any proposition under a motion to suspend the rules, which provide for only 20 minutes' debate upon

Cuban Amendment.

Washington, Feb. 25,-There have been several conferences of senators looking to an amicable understanding on the Cuban question so that an extra session may be avoided. As a result it is said to be probable that an amendment dealing with our relations with Cuba will be presented in the senate during the day, when the army appropriation bill is taken up. The exact phraseology of the amendment, It is said, has not been definitely settled as yet, but the conferences have made it likely that the opposing parties in the senate will get together.

Russia to Strike at Trusts.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—Responsible journals assert that the Russian officials threaten trust-made European and American products, which are sold cheaper abroad than at home, with compensatory duties. They ignore as irrelevant the distinction between legislative and voluntary regulations of industries. The announcement of this doctrine opens up a wide field of speculation, apparently presaging a transformation of the discriminating duties against America Into a general increase of duties on all articles which enter largely into the world's commerce and are the objects of the keenest competition. Russian industries would cortainly welcome any excuse to increase the present high protection.

Famine In Russia.

Odessa, Feb. 25.—Several of the Russian provinces are suffering accutely from famine. In the governments of Kherson and Bessarabia tens of thousands are famishing. His intention is to erect at some point in the city a very powerful "osciliator," which is an eiectricai contrivance of his own construction. At some point in Europe similar instruments will be erected. When the current of the "osciliators" is turned on the enormous voltage will take the shortest track to the instrument made to receive it. For iong distances this "shortest track" will necessarily be through the earth, not over it.

Another Marine Disaster.

Port Townsend, Wash., Feb. 25.-An account of what may turn out to be another marine disaster and mysterious disappearance of a big steamship, while crossing the Pacific, is given by Captain Morris of the transport Port Aibert, just arrived from quarantine. The weather was hazy but it could be seen that the steamer was in the trough of the sea and laboring heavily. The sea was running high at the time and it was all that could be done to keep the Port Aibert head on. The mate went below to get his glass so he could see the vessel but when he returned it was so foggy nothing could be seen. In less than haif an hour the weather cleared but no vessel was visible. Both steamers were traveling in the same direction and Captain Morris expresses the opinion that the vessei must have foundered.

OUR OPPORTUNITY.

Maysville's Splendid Advantages As a Location For Tobacco Factories

Shoull Be Seized By People of City and County-Speeches By Messes, Me-Cartney and Kehoe.

Belaw is given a stenographic report of the speeches delivered by Hon. John P. McCartn-y and Congressman-elect Kehoe a' the tobacco fair Friday. Both speakers brought out the advantages offered by Maysville as a location for tobacco fictories, and we are glad to be able to give the speeches in full:

MR. M'CARTNEY'S ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Ladies and Gentlemen: it is indeed a pleasure to represent the people of Maysville in tendering a welcome to this mugnificent body. It is ever a pleasure to a Kentuckian to welcome the stranger within his gates, but that pleasure is greatly enlounced ou this occasion to him by the ties of friendship and the bonds of commercial intercourse. The man who started this tobacco fair builded better than he knew, for in the presence of this audience it is easy to see that the dignity which properly belongs to the soil is once more under stood by the people. The dineteenth century was a century of a rush to the city from the farm. The boy on the farm was lured to the city by the hope of amassing a fortune. But the twentieth century has done much to restore to the people the diguity which belongs to this occupation. It is the real life of the people of this land, it is said by someone who understood men that the history of the average Kentuckian may be told in a few words. He was born amid the blue grass meadows, and ran wild with the dogs and horses; that when he had acquired his education, he drifted to the city where much of the best part of his life was wasted in the pursuit of wealth, and fluxly he came back to end bis days amid the bine grass meadows and the trees of the forests. And so it is that dignity is added to us when we bring the product of the farm here to show the people an evidence of what can be done in this Blue Grass land, It is fitting that you should be gathered on the day that the American public set apart with special pride, as it is in celebration of one who added dignity to this nation and who was as much of a man in the quiet fields of Mount Vernon as in the Capital City. I am sure that if Washington were alive to-day, he would say to you as I say that there is nothing better in all this wide world than to be a farmer in this Commonwealth. But regardless of whatever others say, it is fitting that we come to-day for the purpose of holding a tobacco fair and to exhibit the weed which Washington grew on his broad and fertile acres; and not a fair where agricultural products are side-tracked by race horses

This is the age of opportunity and if a man reaches out he may grasp it if he will. You hear young men say I will leave Kentucky and go to Florida to raise oranges, or I will go to California to grow olives, which will compete with those of Spain. Again we hear them say, I will go South and grow up with the cotton business. Why not cize the opportunities which lie dormant in better prices for your tobacco, you must get bls land of ours? A man will grow old and down to business. You need more factories to he South was down, that the cution was shipped more buyers into the field. The city of Maysin the New England mills; we know that the ron and coal lay undeveloped. Now we behold Birmingham sprung up like a vision in the night lu A ahama and cottou mills have been built up in the fields of the South until the sceptre has hern transferred from New England to the New Yan see to-day the white burley grown right here in our own fields shipped to St. Louis and l'hlladelptda. I have no doubt there are tobacco growers right here in Kentneky who chew their own tobices which is made up five hundred mlles from here, who could have it mannfigured at their doors. And so it is that here to-day the opportunity which came to them rests at your doors, and in bringing manufacorles boute to the South, why should we not in thia white buriey district of ours let the product b worked up in our own domain? These are that got juto the mitk can. The uneven movepractical things, and this is a practical age; and ment of the wagon, made it a difficult matter to s) my fellow ciuzens, while we are gathered swim. One frog gave it up, croaked and was logether, let us use our heads together; and drowned. The other kept paddling and finally white we wonder at the wealth accumulated by at our door. You are the controllers of your own destinies. Now, as you are gathered together, let us remember that as the people take up these usatters, they will stand alike for the buy the products of this county; no trouble on interest of the townsman and the luterests of the countrymen.

My fellow effizens, Maysville is giad to have interest. I believe lu all candor that when a man takes a prize on his tobacco, it will be the lu this business. means of improving his crop the next year, and I believe that by mutual competition the people here shall receive benefit from this annual gathering. I am glad on behalf of the people $10,000 and say to some special men who have of Maysville to welcome you to this city and to that much money to invest, "Came here to Mays kind thoughts of the pleasant hill-bound city

MR. KEHOE'S SPEECH,

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: Compliments have been passed, views exchanged, ribbons tied, all of which are enjoyable, but what we may think of one another, what au individual may think of the best way to produce a good erop is not the question. What you are coucerned about, the chief purpose of this assembly as I understand is to devise some way to Improve the prices which the grower is receiving for tobacco. It is conceded on every hand that he is he gives, and the character of the soil that is reyou are not growing as good a crop as heretofore. It is not due to the fact that the manufacconceded by everybody that no man can raise a crop of tobacco and sell it at from 4 to 6 cents | n es a dollar to it is bound to be benefited by lt. and find money in his pocket at the end of the year. Your tobacco seils at from 4 to 7 cents, everaging not more than 6 cents. The manufac tured atticle sells at from 40 to 70 cents. This is the result of the commercial conditions, the outcome of which many saw mouths ago. People change compliments, but if you want to set tr mail facilities than we have. Letters can put up or shut up.

gray hunting for an opportunity, only to find at manufacture it. Every manufactory which test that it lay at his door. We know that when starts to manufacture plug tobacco will bring ville by nature is the capital of the white burley district of this country. It offers to you the chanco to give a new market for all of this territory. I know that other citles have grown faster then we have, but if you want to invest your money in a paying business you don't want It invested in the most rapid place, but you want it where the people are generous, just and honest, and a better community to conduct a manufacturing business could not be found than this Now if we are going to have a factory, my friends, it means money put up-that is what you have got to do. Some people believe in waiting for opportunities, letting things force themselves. I believe you can create an opportunity. I don't like the idea of complaining and crosking. I like the idea of doing something. You remember the story of the frogs accomplished through his exertions the churnothers let us remember that the opportunity lies | jug of a pointd of butter; climbed on it and so rode merrily into town. Nothing, my friends, can be accomplished by giving up and croaking. Put a tobacco factory in this city and we will earth about selfing it. Everybody knows the trust is making money. How are you going to do it? There are two ways. Invite capital and you with her; Mason County and all the sur- aid it by offering inducements. This city is rounding counties are bound together by mutual | ready and I believe the people are ready to offer the inducements to the people who will engage

If you people will subscribe your name, if you people who want a market to sell your product, if you will put down your name, if we can raise say to you that the doors of the city are open to yille and start a factory and we will let you have teach us and be sent from here as quickly as you and that we hope you will derive both profit this money for five years without interest, we from any point in it. There is no place in this and pleasure from this occasion, and with your will give you the plant and space for the plant, country that promsses more for a profitable recollections of it, may there also be mingled taxation free, for five years." Let them put tobacco factory than right here in this town. their $25,000 Into the equipping of the plant, putand of the hospitable people who dwell therein, ting in the machinery. Then give them this cheaper here than in the city. The other things $10,0.0 to carry on their business for the next will find another market here. The man who sixty on ninety days until they get on their feet gives $25 or $50 will have it back in other ways and their sales commence to bring them in | inside of six months. Now, my friends, don't money. But you say, "Wby, I may lose it." tell us about hard times or the trouble it is to Yes, you may lose it. If you put it up you take ralse a crop of tobacco. We know that tho the chances; otherwise you take the chance if earliest days of spring see the farmer burning you do subscribe of getting it back, and if you his beds. It is labor, trouble and expense. We don't, you have the certainty of losing It. know that It means hardship for every crop you There is another way that it can be done. Let's raise. We know that you get at it early; that organize it ourselves. Let's subscribe our own you watch it through all the hot days of summoney, pick ant own people. Let's raise the mer. We know that one night's frost may ruin money right here in Mason County, putting the not receiving proper compensation for the labor shares at S.O. and no man allowed to take more than ten shares, so that It cannot be controlled quired for it. This is not due to the fact that by any few, but be the people's factory. The trust can control the tobacco market, because you let it.
